

CONTENTS

---

Introduction	Dorothy Sue Cobble	1
Rights, Identities, and Social Movements in the United States
Social Justice Feminism at Mid-Century	Dorothy Sue Cobble	7
Untold Story: Women and the Fight Against Nuclear Power, 1958–1982	Dee Garrison	11
Identity at Work: Labor Union Responses to Sexual Diversity in Policy and Practice	Monica Bielski	15
Using Faith Statements to Link Morality and Systems of Inequality	Averil Y. Clarke	19
Inequality and Globalization
The Politics of Gender, Class, and the New Indian Middle Class in Liberalizing India	Leela Fernandes	27
Women’s Rights as Human Rights: Women in Law and Development in Africa (WiLDAF)	Dorothy L. Hodgson	31
What Do Race, Class, and Age Have to do with the Direction of the Women’s Rights Movement?	elmira Nazombe and Lisa M. Clarke	35
How Employment Became Emancipation: Tracing the World Bank’s Effort to Get Women into Work	Kate Bedford	41
Comparing Research Traditions in Industrial Relations: Continental Europe and Anglo-Saxon Countries	Carola M. Frege	47
Transforming Labor
Modeling Gender/Fashioning Culture: Working as a Fashion Model in New York and Milan	Kathryn Kluegel	55
Caring for Cold War Children: Child Protection, Family Poverty, and Professional Social Work in Mid-Century America (1946–1963)	Laura Curran	59
“Meaningful” Work and Family Satisfaction	Blanche Grosswald	65
Gender, Family Structure, and Favorable Work Contexts: How They Explain Differences in Scientists’ and Engineers’ Performance	Corinne Post, with Nancy DiTomaso, George Farris, and Rene Cordero	69
Variation in Work Satisfaction by Race, Gender, and Union Status	Julie M. Whittaker	75
Narrative and Moral Life	Diana Tietjens Meyers	81
About the Contributors		85